[FROM OUR OWN CORRESPONDENT.]

April 31st.

The big sporting event of the week was the Scottish Cup final. Six weeks ago if anyone had said that Albion Rovers and Kilmarnock would have the last word, he would have been laughed at. A month ago it was long odds on the Rangers winning the Cup, seemed a sure pinch for them. But now, Rangers are down and out, rank outsiders like Albion Rovers made the running, and what is called a "provincial" club has carried off the honour. Kilmarnock were once before in the final, and that was 29 years ago. The Albion Rovers, who have taken the place of Armdale as the "shock" side, were "placed" for the first time.

Almost as a matter of course the final did not provide a great game in any respect—a final rarely if ever does. There was too much nerve about for anything approaching fine play. It spoiled the finishing, which was very bad; there were long spells when it was almost deplorably bad. The styles of the two sides were strongly contrasted. Kilmarnock played a short, sharp passing game, often making mistakes. Albion Rovers, on the other hand, were not fast enough to get the defence into trouble. In the result, Kilmarnock won by 3 goals to 2, and on play should have won by rather more.

SCOTTISH LEAGUE.

There will be no race for the League Flag in the last lap of the competition. Injuries handicapped Celtic; they were only able to draw at Motherwell, and the point thus lost extinguishes all hopes of their close hauling Rangers. The task of Rangers, also, was made easy by the absence of two leading men from the Queen's. Dundee were well worth their opponents, and Trup being in sparkling form, Clyde made a remarkably fine appearance. Clydebank thoroughly deserved their goals on play.

The table shows Rangers with 37 games and 63 points; Celtic, 36 games and 58 points. Motherwell stand third with 52 points, and Dundee are fourth with 46.

PRIZE MONEY.

"Truth" of April 14th has the following pointed note on the much vexed question of prize money:

The Navy has become tired of possessing its soul in patience pending the distribution of prize money, and it will not find much consolation in the official statement of the receipts and payments in the Admiralty Division of the Supreme Court in prizes. The total amount collected down to the end of March last year was £18,888,337. Of this £6,096,204 has gone in what are called payments—but as there has been no distribution of the "expenses" might as well be used frankly. The plain fact is that considerably more than one-third of the naval prize-money has been spent mainly in counsel fees and other law costs. A Prize Court is a necessary institution of determining the validity of a capture. But there ought to be some protection for the Service against such a monstrous levy on the funds before the Court, simply for the benefit of lawyers. Now that these gentry have skimmed the cream off the milk perhaps the Accountant-General will get on with the business of sharing.

PEKING CANARD OF AFGHAN INVASION.

10,000 CAVALRY GO INTO BRITISH TERRITORY.

According to a Chinese dispatch published in a Japan paper, the Peking Government has received a dispatch from General Yang Tseng-hsin, Military Governor of Hsinking, reporting that 10,000 Afghan cavalry are invading British territory. Instructions were accordingly sent to the Military Governor to maintain a neutral attitude, concerning Anglo-Afghan hostility, and for this purpose to guard the frontier and to permit neither the transport of provisions nor the passage of Afghan troops through Chinese territory.

EMPIRE DAY AT SHANGHAI. CONSUL-GENERAL'S SPEECH TO VOLUNTEERS.

There was a remarkably large attendance of British residents at the Volunteer Parade at Shanghai, which was one of the features of the Empire Day celebration at Shanghai. A Naval unit from the various ships in port participated. Sir EVERARD FRASER addressing the men said:

"Major Trueman, British officers, non-commissioned officers and members of the S.V.C., this our sixth Empire Day parade is notable in more than one respect. In the first place Empire Day has now been recognised as a public holiday, which regularizes a practice instituted by your patriotic zeal and strengthens the bonds uniting all Britons throughout the world in a common celebration year by year. Then again to-day sees our first assembly after the definite conclusion of the Great War which filled our anxious hearts for more than four long-drawn years: practically all our Shanghai men who came through the war have now returned, many I am glad to say to resume service in your ranks. That they did well is what we looked for on the part of men drawn from a Corps with your high ideals alike of discipline and fellowship.

"The S.V.C. deserved well of us all during the war, not only those members who were able to realize your common longing to go to the front, but also those who were compelled to stand and wait while their comrades took part in active service. I venture indeed to suggest that their was the harder part whom insuperable reasons kept here in Shanghai and to most of them the Corps afforded a means of keeping fit and ready for the eagerly expected day of recall home, and gave assurance that they were not in fact standing idle while others strove mightily.

PATRIOTISM TRIUMPHANT.

"In our British community before the war the Empire spirit burned too brightly. Shanghai is not within the borders of our Empire and there was a tendency towards a cosmopolitanism which cared for none but local things and deemed rather bad form any display of pride in being British. But a few months of war changed all that. Thereafter our patriotism triumphed and we gave all we could to the Empire's cause. For that happy reformation such credit is due to the spirit incarnated in your Corps to which the British authorities turned again and again for support.

"To you the memory of the war years must ever be a satisfaction as well as a stimulus: and I am sure that, whenever you and your successors recall that stressful period there will be recalled also your commandants, civil and military, who throughout those trying times gave ungrudgingly such eminent service to your community, until the return of peace enabled them both to seek most honourable rest in retirement. Major Trueman has set an example which every British volunteer may well strive to follow—an example second to none of unselfish work for the Empire's interest in Shanghai.

"A further point of interest in to-day's ceremony is that it affords the opportunity to hand in a public and official manner to two Shanghai Britons marks of distinction won in the war."

DECORATIONS PRESENTED.

Lt.-Col. Hayley Bell, D.S.O., then presented two returned soldiers to Sir Everard for the presentation of decorations. Mr. Grant Jones reading the record of the feats for which the decorations were granted. They were:

Military Cross—Lt. David Guild Lawton, 12th Battalion, Machine Gun Corps.

When the attack was being held up by machine-gun fire, he crawled forward in full view of the enemy, and under intense machine-gun fire, and with the help of a non-commissioned officer, got a gun into position, which he fired himself, and put the enemy gun out of action. Our advance was then able to continue. His prompt and gallant conduct undoubtedly saved many casualties, and presented a critical case of the situation.

For great courage, initiative and devotion to duty in action under fire.

RECEPTION AT THE CLUB.

The usual festive gathering marked the reception given by the British members of the Shanghai Club to their fellow members during the afternoon. Mr. R. G. MacDonald welcomed the guests on behalf of the British members, proposing the usual loyal toast followed by that of "the men who died in the war and gave their lives to save our liberty."

AUTOMOBILE MAGNATE VISITING JAPAN.

Mrs. C. G. Fisher, who, with her husband, recently endowed the $200,000 aquarium at Miami, Florida, is a visitor in Japan, arriving aboard the ss. Siberia from Japan, accompanied by Miss Meri Hagen. Mr. Fisher is one of the big men in the automobile industry in the United States, who inspired and put through the Lincoln and Dixie Highway, the automobile road that connects the Atlantic and the Pacific, while he also built the great automobile race track at Indianapolis, where most of the world's automobile records have been established. Mrs. Fisher is a member of a party of about twenty-five who are to tour the Orient under the guidance of representatives of the American Express Company.

INDIAN RAILWAY TRAGEDY MAGISTRATE'S WIFE SHOT DEAD.

On the arrival of the 3. Up mail at Hazaribagh Road on the morning of April 30th, Mrs. Colebrook Taylor, wife of the Magistrate of Hazaribagh Road, was found lying dead on the floor in the ladies' compartment, shot through the head.

The compartment was locked and sealed and sent on to Gaya under Police escort, where the carriage was detached, and the case made over to the Government Railway Police, who took up the investigation with the Joint Magistrate immediately. Further enquiries by an Englishman representative elicited the following facts: The train was the Up Bombay mail. Mrs. Colebrook Taylor had another lady in the same compartment with her as far as Dhanbad after which she was alone. The station before Hazaribagh Road, at which Mrs. Colebrook Taylor was to have alighted, was Gomoh.

At Hazaribagh Road station, Conductor Guard Mayne walked down the platform to inform the two passengers, whose destination it was, that they had arrived at their station. It was past midnight and it might have been possible for them to be asleep.

He saw a young man walking across the platform and asked him "You for this station?" The man said "Yes." He then knew there was one other lady in the First Class, who also had to alight there. He approached Mrs. Taylor's compartment and found the door slightly open.

He pushed it open and entered and found a lady upon the floor. He thereupon walked out to look for assistance. He found a Mr. Sullivan upon the platform and called upon him to assist. Together they entered the compartment and turned on the lights. They found Mrs. Colebrook Taylor upon the floor lying upon her back.

The police and the guard were instantly informed and the carriage locked and sealed and taken to Gaya.

Mrs. Colebrook Taylor is described as a young woman of about 24 or 25. The shot is said to have entered through her right temple. There was nothing missing in the compartment. All Mrs. Colebrook Taylor's money and possessions were found to be intact.

Conductor Guard Mayne is said to have declared that he heard no report. The carriage containing Mrs. Taylor's compartment was a composite one. A neighbour (a man) in the adjacent compartment also declares that he did not hear any report of the revolver shot.

Mr. Harry Wilfred Colebrook Taylor is a Deputy Magistrate of Hazaribagh Road and has been in the service since 1915. He is 34 years of age. During the war his services were placed under the army department and he was attached to the combined France Labour Depot at Ranchi since February, 1917.

The revolver used was an old one, described by those who have seen it as an "ancient weapon." Six photographs taken of the body prior to burial. Mrs. Colebrook Taylor is said to have been travelling from Howrah to Hazaribagh Road Station on the night of the tragedy.

Mrs. Taylor's maiden name was Mary Bigby. She was the daughter of the late Dr. Rigby of Ranchi, and has a mother living in Travancore. She was left a comfortable allowance by her father. She married Mr. Taylor eight years ago and was mother of two children, a girl of seven and a boy of about five.

NEW UNITED STATES CONSULATE.

CENTRE FOR MONGOLIAN TRADE.

The United States Department of State, acting upon the advice recently sent to Washington by Mr. C. C. Eberhardt, American Consul General at Large, has decided to open an American Consulate at Kalgan, in the northern part of China. Kalgan is situated on the Peking-Suiyuan Railway, 150 miles north-west of Peking and is the starting point for the great caravan route across Gobi Desert to Urga and Kishin. It is a large centre for the trade in hides and wool, and the large American interests there are represented by Anderson, Meyer and Company, the Mongolian Trading Company and the Standard Oil Company. As difficult as the local authorities and with the desert brigands have been frequent in the past, there has for some time been a feeling in commercial circles that the United States Government should open a consulate at Kalgan.

Mr. J. Paul Jamieson is the American official designated to open the Kalgan Consulate. He is a member of the American Consular Service in China, having risen from the ranks of the student interpreter and was last stationed as Consul at Nanking. Mr. Jamieson went to the United States on home leave last year and is still at Washington. He is expected to take up his new post in China within a few weeks. Japan Advertiser.

STEAM YACHT "SAPPHIRE."

The party includes: Lady Drogheda, Lady Sara Wilson, Captain Straker, Captain Wilson, Dr. Garvin and Mr. Rankin, besides three maids and two valets.

Viscount and Viscountess Furness and party left Kobe for Kyoto, and proposed spending several weeks in Japan before leaving Yokohama for Honolulu, whence they will go to San Francisco. From San Francisco the Sapphire will make for New York, by way of the Panama Canal, after spending some time in New York the party will return to England in the winter.

CENTRAL EUROPE'S DESPAIR RECKLESS ORGIES AND STARVATION.

INDUSTRIES RUINED.

The Daily Express correspondent at Vienna wrote on April 15th:—

What most strikes the wayfarer in Central Europe is the extreme poverty of the poor and the senseless luxury of the rich. They call for comparison with the state of affairs at the time of the decline and fall of the old Roman Empire.

The rich people in Europe, from the North Sea down to the Mediterranean, are living an unparalleled life of happy-go-luckiness and vice. All real production is at a standstill in this part of the world; factories are closed or working at a highly reduced output for want of coal. The only way of livelihood is illicit trading, called "Schleichhandel" in the German speaking parts of Europe.

Eating, feasting, dancing are the craze at present in the modern Babylon of Central Europe. Public safety is at a hardly existing level. Lucullan feasts are extended until the dawn. Smuggled French champagne, caviare, rare sea fishes are common at such orgies. New jazz steps quickly become the rage, but the steps resemble nothing ever seen in London or New York.

Dancing and night clubs, of course, want music. Quite a new generation of composers has taken the place of the old. Gilbert Lehner and Leo Fall have disappeared. Engelberger and Stolz are new musical stars, and I should not be surprised if their catchy music soon captivates London.

In sharp contrast to the rich stands the poverty of the poor. Pen can scarcely describe their misery. Charles Booth's accounts of the poverty of London read like a fairy tale of Paradise compared with the suffering of the Viennese or the dwellers in the Budapest slums. It is a common sight to see sixteen or seventeen people living in one room. I myself have seen seven babies sleeping in a small bathtub. In Vienna the poor get a State subsidy in Budapest none. But the State subsidy is a farce. It amounts to fifty crowns a week, and a pound of meat costs twice that amount.

The only solution is work, work, and again work. But how to start the work? Europe is at present Balkanized. A handful of small States are barring each other's way. New Chinese walls—not of stone and mortar, but of mutual distrust—petty quarrels, pass revisions and passport regulations have been erected.

Glance at the industry of Austria. Viennese industry depends entirely on Czech brown coal and Silesian anthracite. Both are in Czech hands. The Czechs are reluctant to supply the necessary coal for Austria, hoping to remain masters of the industrial market. Austria, for the hundredth time of saying, cannot live under present peace conditions. At her raw materials and all possibility of acquiring any have passed away into Czech hands.

REBUFF TO DE VALERA. SOUTHERN HOSTILITY TO SINN FEIN.

At a great mass meeting attended by High Court Judges, clergymen, men of business, and working men, held at Birmingham (Alabama) on April 20th, a strong resolution of protest was adopted against the indignities extended in other parts of the country to the mischievous activities of Mr. De Valera.

The meeting declared that the proposed visit of Mr. De Valera "for the purpose of spreading contemptible falsehood, and misinformation in behalf of the element in Ireland that stands before the world as notorious traitors, slayers, and provocateurs," constituted an affront to the State of Alabama. It proceeded to denounce and organize, ecclesiastical or political, in this country who give comfort or sympathy to the Sinn Fein movement, and to declare that the "treason and hostility of the Sinn Feiners toward America and its Allies in the war forever bars that element from any favourable consideration at the hands of the American people."

Finally the resolution called upon the President and the Alabama Legislature to Congress immediately to take the necessary steps to effect the early deportation of De Valera and all his foreign associates.

BOLSHIEVIST LEARNINGS.

The Alabama resolutions have helped to bring the Irish problem once more to the forefront of public discussion. Great prominence is given to a London dispatch affirming the existence of a Sinn Fein plot in America to foment simultaneous disturbances in Egypt, India, and Canada. The World, on receipt of this dispatch, addressed an inquiry to the State Department, receiving the reply, "natural enough in the circumstances, that the officials are without any information of the alleged plot."

The interesting suggestion, however, was vouchsafed to the World that the disposition here is to believe that Bolshievists rather than a bona fide Irish sympathizers are behind the movement if the existing "inasmuch as it is definitely known that the Bolshievists have fired plans for an uprising in India and Egypt." Mr. Frank P. Walsh, who was one of the delegates who visited Ireland during the Peace Conference, replied to a question concerning the difference between the Irish Republic and the Soviet Government in Russia, saying that there is no difference.

The impression thus created is deepened by the violent tirade delivered by Mr. Daniel Cohan, a Justice of the Supreme Court of New York, whose Pro-German sympathies during the war were notorious. Mr. Cohan describes Sir Auckland Geddes's statement as a tissue of arrant hypocrisy and English middle-class imperiousness, and proceeds to declare that Americans will only consent to friendly relations with England when that country takes its Army out of Ireland, India, and Egypt. He reports the well-worn argument that the Irish Republic furnishes the only means of safeguarding the world from the overmastering peril of British Navalism.

ST. JOHN'S CATHEDRAL CHURCH HALL.

H.E. THE GOVERNOR LAYS THE FOUNDATION STONE.

The interesting ceremony of laying the foundation stone of the new Church Hall, which is to be erected adjacent to the St. John's Cathedral, was performed yesterday by H.E. the Governor in the presence of a large gathering. Immediately after the morning service, H.E. the Governor, accompanied by Lady Stubbs, and attended by Capt. Warner, Private Secretary, was taken in procession, the choir leading, to a raised dais, decorated with flags. Here a special form of service was conducted by the Rev. V. H. Copley Moyle, the Cathedral Chaplain, who, inviting His Excellency to lay the stone, said:—Your Excellency, I will now ask you to receive at the hands of our honorary architect a silver trowel with which to lay this foundation stone.

Mr. W. L. LEASK, in presenting the trowel, which was suitably inscribed, said:—Your Excellency, I have very much pleasure in handing you this trowel, and asking you to keep it as a small memento of the occasion, from the contractor.

His Excellency: Thank you very much. My friends, we are met to lay the foundation stone of the Cathedral hall. For years past the work which centres round this Cathedral as the mother church of the diocese has been hampered in two ways—one by lack of funds, and the other by lack of buildings. The first difficulty has, to some extent, been removed in the course of this year by the generous donation, with which Sir Paul Chater has endowed the church, and I trust that before I leave this Colony I may see the finances of the Diocese placed on a proper footing by the establishment of an Endowment Fund, without which the work of a church must inevitably be carried on with difficulty. The other difficulty has been that the Cathedral has no place where it can centre the activities of a quasi-social nature such as lectures, classes, meetings, entertainments, Sunday school, and so forth. That difficulty has now been removed, and it is a great pleasure to think that in my first year here I have seen the two difficulties taken away from the path of the church. There is much to be done in a hall such as this, and I have every hope that the results of the establishment of this hall will be an increase in the strength and value of the work of the church and I trust that the building will be a successful institution to the glory of God and the spread of the name of His Holy Church. And now, in the faith of Jesus Christ, we place this foundation stone in the name of God the Father, God the Son and God the Holy Ghost.

The stone, which bore the inscription "This foundation stone was laid by Sir Reginald Stubbs, K.C.M.G., Governor of Hongkong, May 30th, 1920" was then placed in position, His Excellency first using the trowel and then tapping the stone with a mallet.

After further prayers the ceremony concluded.

CANTON NEWS.

May 30th.

MILITARY GOVERNMENT IN YUNNAN.
The formation of a new Military Government in the province of Yunnan has been unanimously decided by the prominent leaders and the M.P. in Shanghai, and steps are being taken to establish the Government.

Drs. Wu Ting Fang, Sun Yat Sen, and others being the Administrative Directors to the Military Government have notified the Canton Parliament, the 1st Squadron, the Ministers and Vice-Ministers of the Military Government in Canton, to send representatives to Yunnan.

THE EAST RIVER REGION.
Owing to the impending troubles in the East River region, the Tsuchun Mok held a military conference with many of the Kwangsi leaders in his yamen the other day. It was decided that all the leaders must participate in the coming conflict, and that each of the leaders should send several battalions from his army to the East River region for action.

THE 1ST SQUADRON.
It is said that the leaders of the 1st Squadron have sent representatives to negotiate with the Premier in Peking, about the surrender of the Squadron to the North, on condition that the leaders and the crews are paid two months' salaries and wages before the 15th day of the 6th moon, or the Dragon boat festival.

SILK PRICE DECLINE.
The price of silk, which was about $1,000 per picul, has recently declined to about $800 per picul. The decline has proved profitable to Chinese silk merchants as foreign exporters have placed large orders with them. It is stated that a leading Japanese silk merchant has become bankrupt. The price of silk shows signs of a still further decline.

ROBBERY AT THE POST OFFICE.

THE THIRD IN EIGHTEEN MONTHS.
THE SAME GANG AT WORK?

A very daring robbery was committed at the Post Office on Friday night—the third during the past eighteen months. There is good reason to believe that the latest outrage was the work of the same gang that committed the two previous robberies—no arrests for which were made by the Police. On the last occasion, however, the booty was only $278 and some odd cents, the contents of three safes, for very little money is kept in the office overnight.

The robbers—the Police theory is that there were three—appear to have entered the building from the box-holders' lobby. The big door leading to this lobby is closed every night at 10 p.m., and it is presumed that the three men went into the lobby before 10 p.m. and secreted themselves on the top of the wire-netting above the private boxes, thus evading the attention of the man who closed the door.

From the lobby the robbers are believed to have entered the general sorting office by squeezing themselves through the aperture between the private boxes and the sorting office. There was nothing sufficiently valuable to attract their attention here, so they moved into the shroff's cubicle, where they opened a safe. This safe had a big Chubb padlock, in addition to an ordinary big lock, but the Police are not surprised that they were able to drill a hole and remove the locks, in view of the magnificent set of housebreaking tools which the robbers left behind.

The robbers next moved into the comptroller's office where they prised open two drawers, but got nothing from them. They then obtained entrance into the Postmaster-General's Office by way of the fanlight. Here they set about to create disorder, making a thorough search in all the drawers, but finding nothing they could take away. They did not attempt to open the safes in this room. From the Postmaster-General's room they moved into the Chinese branch, where they tackled the big safe. This was a new one, replacing the one broken open during the last burglary, and they drilled a hole through the safe-door and damaged the lock, but they failed to open it. They must have spent at least three hours in trying to open this safe. They broke several drawers open.

Back through the general sorting office, the robbers appear to have gone to the registration department, but here no damage was done. It was in the Parcels department that the robbers obtained most of their money. They ripped open several parcels, but did not take away the contents. They drilled holes in and broke open two safes, and took away all the money they contained. They also took out a lot of stamps but these were not taken out of the building, and were found scattered about in various portions of the Post Office.

All this had occupied the robbers the whole of the night. In the Parcel Room they selected a number of parcels and put them into a basket, preparatory to carrying the basket away. There is every reason to believe that the robbers intended to hide themselves—as they had done earlier in the night—on the wire-netting above the private boxes and make their escape in the morning, when the big door leading to the lobby would be opened by the postman. No one would be about so early in the morning, for the Chinese staff come in at about 6.45 a.m. This plan miscarried slightly.

It appears that it has been the habit of Mr. Thomas Hynes, Superintendent of Mails, who resides upstairs, to go down to the office at about 5.30 a.m. every day. Early on Saturday morning, Mr. Hynes, following his custom, came down the staircase, opened the main-door facing Des Voeux Road and, walking along the Pedder Street pavement, opened the big door leading to the private box-holders' lobby. He then opened the door leading into the office, and was amazed to see the basket full of parcels near the door and the place in some disorder.

The Police are of opinion that Mr. Hynes did a courageous thing by going into the Parcel office and examining it, as he was unarmed and the robbers—who it was plain, were still in the building—might have shot him without any warning. Mr. Hynes straightway came to the conclusion that the robbers were in the building—as indeed they were—so he closed the door leading into the office, went out and called the Indian watchman on duty. The two of them then went in, Mr. Hynes having armed himself with a stool. The watchman had his revolver. Both made a thorough search of the building.

TRADERS' PROFITS.

MAGISTRATE ON CHARGES FOR LUXURIES.

During the hearing of a case against William Whiteley (Limited), of Buy water, for charging 21s 2d. 6d. for a coat which cost the firm 2s 8s. the Marylebone Magistrate (Mr. Chester Jones) said that 33 1-3 per cent. was the proper profit in that trade, though he knew perfectly well that there were traders who charged double and treble the cost for articles. He did not believe Whiteley's made more than 33 1-3 as a rule. Had counsel any evidence that other firms charged more than that?

Mr. E. J. Willis (for defendants)—Yes, Sir, I have.

Mr. Chester Jones—I should like the public to know it. Let us have all the firms who do it. It is quite interesting.

When it was argued that the coat was a luxury article the Magistrate asked what did it matter if it were so? "The public," he said, "should be no more swindled over a luxury article than over anything else."

The case was adjourned for evidence that 33 1-3 was a fair profit in the circumstances.

It was not surprising that they found no one. If the robbers were in the office when Mr. Hynes first entered, they lost no time in secreting themselves in the narrow aperture above the boxes. Even the Police, when they arrived later, did not think of looking there. When Mr. Hynes and the watchman were searching the building, the robbers seem to have slid down into the lobby, walked through it and then, at the big door, which was of course, still open, for Mr. Hynes and the watchman were searching inside with the door leading to the office closed on the inside.

The Police were summoned, but made no important discovery which may lead to the arrest of the robbers. For a long time it was inexplicable how the robbers entered and left the building. The men who entered the building were familiar with the interior, and the Police believe that they spent an hour on each of the safes they opened and three hours on the safe which they failed to open. A strange thing in connection with the robbery is that the Indian constable on duty in the building knew nothing of what had happened till the morning. It seems that he is supposed to make a regular patrol in the corridors inside the building, as well as go round outside the building, looking through the peep-holes, specially constructed so as to give a person outside a view of the interior of the building. Since the last burglary, the electric lights have been kept alight the whole of the night.

COMPANY MEETING.

PEAK TRAMWAYS CO. LTD.

The annual general meeting of the Peak Tramways Company, Ltd., was held on Saturday morning at the Hongkong Hotel. Mr. D. E. Clarke presided, and there were also present:—Mr. A. O. Lang, the Hon. Mr. John Johnstone, and Mr. A. S. Gubbay (Directors), Messrs. J. A. Tarrant, W. Morley, M. S. Northcote, J. D. Humphreys, and J. M. Wong (shareholders), and G. Rapp (Secretary).

The CHAIRMAN said:—Gentlemen,—The report and statement of accounts and auditors' report having been in your hands for the past week, I will, with your permission, adopt the usual course and take them as read. Traffic receipts show an increase of $25,282.73 and the net profit for the year shows an increase of $3,773.75. The previous year's accounts benefited to the extent of $6,516.80 profit on investment realised, whilst in the year under review no sales of shares took place. Turning to the debit side, you will notice costs and stores are $1,125.39 up, whilst maintenance and repairs are $3,290.55 higher.

The increase in this account is part cost of work in connection with the retaining wall above Barker Road station which it was found necessary to erect owing to a landslide at the cutting at this point, during the heavy rains early in July. Wages are $3,382.15 up and there seems little likelihood of any reduction in this item in the future. Stations Crown Leasehold Buildings you will notice are $3,000.74 higher than the previous year. This amount which was the cost of the new station at Barker Road was previously included under the heading "Rerailing Line." Shares in public Companies have been written down to the market price, ruling on April 30th, and the loss debited to investment fluctuation account. I trust that the proposed transfer to reserve fund of $10,000 will meet with your approval. The present engine and cars will in the near future have to be replaced so I am sure you will agree with me as to the advisability of building up this fund. I do not think there is anything else in the account before you that calls for special comment, but before proposing the adoption of the report and statement of accounts I should like to place on record our thanks to the men of the Navy and Army who assisted us during the recent strike. Without their help we should have had to close down entirely.

With these few remarks, gentlemen, I beg to propose that Directors' report and statement of account as presented be adopted. After this has been seconded, but before putting it to the meeting, I shall be pleased to answer to the best of my ability any questions shareholders may like to ask.

Mr. Northcote seconded the motion which was carried unanimously.

The Hon. Sir Paul Chater, the Hon. Mr. John Johnstone, Mr. A. O. Lang, Mr. J. Scott Harrison, and Mr. A. S. Gubbay were re-elected Directors, on the proposition of the CHAIRMAN, seconded by Mr. MORLEY.

On the motion of Mr. Tarrant seconded by Mr. J. M. Wong, Mr. C. Bernard Brown and the Hon. Mr. A. B. Lowe were re-appointed auditors, at a remuneration of $150 each. The CHAIRMAN announced that dividend warrants were ready and the meeting terminated.

Note.—By the Treaty of Peace Order, 1919, all property, rights, and interests within His Majesty's Dominions belonging to German nationals at the date when the Treaty of Peace with Germany came into force, and the net proceeds of dealing therewith, are charged with the payment of certain British claims. ## AMERICA AND THE IRISH QUESTION.

Those who take politics seriously and look to Ministers of State to possess in an eminent degree the sense of responsibility that befits high office may well have been astonished on reading that Mr. BAIRD BRIDGE COLBY, the American Secretary of State, had addressed to the Chairman of the Foreign Relations Committee at Washington, a letter saying that nothing connected with the foreign relations of the United States should deter the Committee from any action which it felt impelled to take regarding American recognition of the Irish Republic. It has since been explained that this was "merely an election manoeuvre" as both parties in the United States are angling for the Irish vote. Such an explanation is not likely to be accepted outside the United States, at least, as either justification or excuse for what, coming as it does from a Secretary of State, must be characterised as a blazing indiscretion. What makes the matter all the more surprising is that it is possible to view it as a direct retort to some observations publicly made by the new British Ambassador to Washington. Sir AUCKLAND GEDDES took what is perhaps an almost unprecedented course for a British Ambassador when, upon his arrival at Washington, he issued a considered statement in regard to questions in which Great Britain and America are deeply interested. By one of the New York papers the Ambassador, on this account, was hailed as "a representative of the new diplomacy of frankness and good faith, emancipated from an old and unhappy tradition, and caring little for the leather and prunelle, stiffened into precedents." Beginning the statement with an expression of his belief that the main hope of world peace rests on the existence of mutual respect and understanding between the peoples of the United States of America and the British community of nations, the Ambassador went on to remark that for generations England has given sanctuary to representatives of the discontented and the unhappy, the oppressed and the down-trodden. "We have listened to harrowing tales of great wrongs and we have been moved to action time and yet time again. We have learned how difficult it is to right a small wrong, or even a great and bitter wrong, without creating a new, a greater and a still more bitter sense of wrong elsewhere. We have learned that to keep peace for that quarter of the human race which owes allegiance to the British Crown imposes a heavy strain upon the material and moral resources of our peoples. To avoid worse evils than those we seek to remedy it is often necessary to move with slowness, always with caution, but one thing I can say positively, and without fear of informed contradiction, the inspiration of British policy during the period I have known it, has been, if possible, to bring order out of chaos, to extend the boundaries of freedom, to improve the lot of the oppressed, to increase the material prosperity of the world." This led up to references to India and Egypt, and then to Ireland. "We are trying," he said, "to provide political machinery whereby the antagonized sections of the Irish peoples can work out their own internal political salvation without economic ruin to Irish interests. The British Government, after careful study of the Irish question, is convinced that now the only hope of ending that centuries-old distemper is to place fairly and squarely on the shoulders of Irishmen in Ireland the constitutional responsibility of finding for themselves within the framework of the British Empire the solution for their political differences. The new Home Rule Bill, which passed its second reading in the British House of Commons by a great majority on March 31st, is designed with intention to secure that end." Then came a suggestion which can hardly have escaped the notice of the American Secretary of State. "When this Bill becomes operative," said the British Ambassador, "it will be the duty of all British subjects who are not domiciled in Ireland to stand aside and leave those who live there to solve their problem. I venture to add that it will also be helpful if the many in all parts of the world who are not British subjects, but are interested in Ireland, likewise stand aside and leave the Irish in Ireland to grapple with their own political difficulties." This advice was endorsed by the New York Times, which said it would be well if some of the more eager and vehement partisans of Ireland in the United States would refrain from a propaganda—and demonstrations—that can only have the effect of injuring their cause in Great Britain and alienating from it a great, if not noisy, section of American opinion. "Not in England any more than in the United States are men to be intimidated into or from a course of public policy by foreign opinion or foreign expressions of hostility." No English organ of public opinion could better have said the word that was needed. We are not sure that the New York journal is correct when it avers that the lip service of politicians, in Congress or out, deceives nobody on either side of the water; we fancy this lip service by politicians is better understood in the United States than abroad. Nowhere, however, is a Secretary of State, who is the responsible agent of a country in its foreign relations, commonly regarded as on a level with the politician of the hustings. He is usually credited with an adequate sense of the responsibilities of his office, and coming from a statesman holding high office, "electioneering manoeuvres" such as that under notice obviously cannot serve to develop that respect and understanding which the new British Minister announced his desire to cultivate.

Four case (two deaths) of plague and two cases (two deaths) of enteric fever were reported in the Colony on Friday.

Mr. M. J. Breen has been appointed Honorary Secretary of the Peace Celebration and War Memorial Committee during the absence on leave of Mr. S. B. C. Ross.

The total output of The Kailan Mining Administration's mines for the week ending May 15th, amounted to 92,282 tons and the sales during the period to 92,560 tons.

A grand concert is announced to be given in the old Chamber of Commerce room at the City Hall, next Saturday. Particulars appear in a double-column advertisement in another part of the paper.

The Public Bathing Beaches at North Point and Kennedy Town were opened to the public on the 15th instant. A reserved enclosure is provided at North Point, for the use of which a fee of 10 cents per person is charged.

A telegram from Calcutta to the Indian Trade Commissioner says that the purchase is reported by the Japanese of a complete sugar estate in Java formerly run by German interests; the capital is estimated at 10,000,000 yen (£1,000,000).

Mr. K. E. Greig has been appointed a Member of the Committee to enquire and report on the question of the development of the economic resources of the Colony of Hongkong, during the absence from the Colony of Mr. James Reid.

Empire Day at Yokohama was celebrated by a children's fete in the grounds of the Royal Naval Hospital, and at Tokyo by a gathering in the grounds of the Embassy under the auspices of the Patriotic League of British Overseas.

A recent visitor to Hongkong from Bangkok wrote to a friend in Bangkok as follows:—"It is impossible to get rooms here. A steamer with fifty odd passengers arrived a few days ago—there was accommodation on shore for three. People are filling in time and getting accommodation by running up and down on the steamers to Canton."

SIR WILLIAM REES-DAVIES, K.C.

A FALSE RUMOUR.

We have heard no word of the intention of Sir William Rees-Davies, K.C., to retire from the Chief Justiceship of the Colony but we observe that a Ceylon paper states that the Hon. Mr. H. C. Gollan, K.C., Attorney-General of Ceylon, who is at present in England, in connection with Constitutional Reform for the Island, may not return to Ceylon, as he is likely to be appointed to succeed the Chief Justice of Hongkong, Sir William Rees-Davies, K.C., who will be retiring shortly.

We understand that there is no foundation for the rumour that Sir William is retiring.

PRESENTATION TO CAPT. AND MRS. BASIL TAYLOR.

Capt. and Mrs. Basil Taylor were on Friday the recipients of a magnificent silver cup from the French community of Hongkong, in recognition of their work for the Devastated Villages of France. The cup, which is suitably inscribed, is about eighteen inches high, with graceful handles on either side. The intention had been to present the cup at a reception in honour of Captain and Mrs. Taylor, but their steamer's unexpectedly early departure made this impossible. In a letter accompanying the gift, Monsieur Hanebeorne, Consul-General for France, expressed the gratitude of the French community of the Colony not only to the recipients of the cup, but to all those who had worked for and subscribed to the Hongkong Fund for War Devastated France, all of whom they associated together in their generous efforts.

PRESENTATION TO MR. J. W. JAMIESON.

Mr. J. W. Jamieson, C.M.G., LL.D., who has been His Britannic Majesty's Consul-General at Canton for the past eleven years, and who is shortly leaving on furlough, was the guest on Thursday at a reception held by the British firms and a number of British subjects in Canton.

During the reception, which was largely attended by representatives from all British firms, Mr. Jamieson was presented with a silver salver, as a token of the high regard in which he is held by the business community, and also as a mark of esteem from all those who have appreciated his valuable co-operation and help during his long tenure of office.

A RESUMPTION OF PEACE POURPARLERS.

LONDON, May 27th.

Significance is attached to the arrival in London of M. Krassin, head of the Russian Trade Delegation, from Copenhagen. It is suggested that the Mission, though primarily concerned in the negotiations for the resumption of Anglo-Russian trade, may pave the way for peace pourparlers, and that he will be received by Mr. Lloyd George and Lord Curzon.

OBJECT OF THE MISSION.

LONDON, May 28th.

M. Krassin, the head of the Bolshevik Trade Delegation, has arrived in London. It is believed that one of the objects of the mission is to obtain permission to sell captured gold in England.

The Times declares that a permit for such sale will be a condonation of robbery of the French and British creditors in Russia, and indirectly equivalent to a recognition of the legitimacy of the Soviet Government.

AMERICA AND THE MARK.

BERLIN, May 28th.

The Vossische Zeitung believes that a contributory factor in the improvement in the exchange value of the mark is the deliberate American purchase of marks.

THE PAYMENT OF GERMANY'S INDEMNITY.

LONDON, May 27th.

The Evening Standard states that Italy, whose war debt to Britain amounts to 24,000,000, and Serbia and Rumania have asked to be placed on a similar footing to France and Belgium as regards repayment, as recently arranged at Lympne, by which the French and Belgian repayments depend on, and will be made concurrently with, Germany's payment of indemnity.

FRENCH PREMIER DEFENDS REPARATION SCHEME.

PARIS, May 27th.

In the Chamber of Deputies, replying to criticisms on the Hybe Conference, particularly as regards reparations, M. Millerand defended on the ground of economic advantages, the fixing of the reparations debt now instead of waiting twelve months, as the treaty enabled the estimated French reparations of the total value of 205 milliards francs to be taken as equivalent to 70 milliards gold marks. The estimate was in no way based on Germany's ability to pay.

As regards priority, he mentioned the plan by which the Allies might obtain effective realisations in the shape of capital or of realising the indemnity by an international loan or a series of loans under combined Allied control. Another method involved waiting for the payment of the German annual instalments, but he considered this was impossible, as the reiterated desire of the policy was an agreement with Germany. But the latter must enter into deeds to show that it realises its responsibilities.

The Chamber, voting on the interpellation regarding the Hybe Conference, passed a vote of confidence in the Government.

AN INDIAN GOVERNMENT DESPATCH.

AN INDIAN GOVERNMENT DESPATCH TO THE

Rt. Hon. E. S. Montagu pays a tribute to Sir Michael O'Dwyer, Lieutenant-Governor of the Punjab, who has been subjected to great criticism, also to other officers, for their conduct in difficult circumstances.

The despatch concludes by expressing the Government's great regret at the sufferings resulting from the disturbances, and with the solemn warning to the promoters of the civil disobedience movement which is calculated to lead to the overthrow of law and order, and which was the chief cause of the outbreak.

The Indian Government further reported that the Commander-in-Chief in India has directed Brigadier-General Dyer to resign his appointment, as the Brigadier has informed him he would not receive further employment in India.

Mr. E. S. Montagu, while recognising General Dyer's honesty of purpose, has approved of the decision.

SYMPATHY FOR GENERAL DYER.

The Press generally agrees with the main findings of the Hunter Committee, but much sympathy is expressed with General Dyer. The opinion is expressed that he made an honest mistake in thinking that he was called upon to make such an example at Amritsar as would produce a deep impression throughout the Punjab.

FAR EASTERN CABLE NEWS.

FURTHER VIEWS OF MR. J. O. P. BLAND.

LONDON, May 28th.

Continuing his articles on the situation in the Far East in the Times, Mr. J. O. P. Bland urges the disbandment of the arms of the Tsuchis as essential to the restoration of order and good Government.

He says that everything depends on the readiness of Japan, Britain, and the United States loyally to co-operate in a common self-defending policy of reconstruction. He is convinced that the resources of diplomacy will be sufficient to attain the desired end and secure the renewal of the Anglo-Japanese Alliance under conditions ultimately beneficial to China.

A united front and a clear-cut policy on the part of the Consortium Powers is necessary to make the disbandment complete and irrevocable. No further loans should be made to China, except on the condition of final disbandment.

There is enough intelligence, ability, and patriotism in China to make China a united and prosperous nation soon, but as present honesty in the public service can only be supplied from without. It involves insistence upon efficient auditing of all official accounts in which foreign loans are involved.

This need not in any way conflict with China's sovereign rights and does not involve any new denature.

SHIPBUILDING IN AUSTRALIA
FUTURE OF THE INDUSTRY.

Some interesting particulars of the work of Australian shipbuilding yards up to the commencement of this year are given in a paper read by Mr. J. L. East, M.N.A., before the Melbourne Section of the Junior Institution of Engineers. At Sydney there are four yards, of which the most important is the Cockatoo Island yard, now owned by the Commonwealth Government. This yard formerly belonged to the New South Wales Government and was at first employed on general repair work, docking and shipyard work. Later on a new building work was carried out until an order was placed for the construction of the light-cruiser Brisbane, and work on the hull of this vessel was well advanced when the yard was purchased by the Commonwealth Government. The destroyer Warrago, constructed by the Fairfield Company at Govan, was shipped to Sydney and re-erected at Cockatoo Island. This work, as well as that on the Brisbane, having proved entirely satisfactory, appears to have given a fresh impetus to the Australian shipbuilding industry. Since that time, another light cruiser, the Adelaide, has been launched, and three destroyers have been completed as well as lightships, launches and other small craft. There are at present under construction a fleet collier and a cargo vessel for the Commonwealth Government line of steamers. The former vessel of the first steel ship to be built entirely of Australian material. It is designed to carry 4,000 tons of coal, 1,250 tons of oil and 750 tons of fresh water for the fleet, as well as about 1,000 tons of bunker coal. The principal work of the Morts Dock, Sydney, is drydocking, slipway work and repairs, although various types of vessels have been constructed for local owners, and two oil storage vessels were constructed in 1918 and 1919 for the Australian navy. Morrison and Sinclair, another Sydney firm, are builders of ships, motor boats, and boats and steel, formerly of Sydney, have now removed to Adelaide, where they will probably build vessels for the Commonwealth Government line. One of the most recently constructed yards, and one which promises largely to influence the shipbuilding industry in Australia, is that at Walsh Island, Newcastle, N.S.W. The yard is situated in a coal centre and is directly opposite the Broken Hill Steel Works, where plates, sections and steel castings are produced. Its favourable location should be of material assistance in the matter of cheap production. Dredgers, hopper barges, trawlers and other craft have already been built in this yard, and six steamers for the Commonwealth Line are now in course of construction. There is ample room for extension, and a dozen berths could easily be laid down if required. The yard, which is under the management of Mr. A. M. Bompfrey, has its own engine shop, so that vessels can be constructed and supplied complete with machinery.

CONSUMPTION OF GOLD IN JAPAN.

The consumption of gold in Japan is steadily increasing, the latest returns giving the figure for last year as approximately 30 million yen which is an appreciable gain over the figure of a few years ago. The bulk of the precious metal is used for manufacture, and the marked increase of consumption of last year is accounted for by the growth of demand for dental purposes and the growth of luxuries among people of the higher classes. It is said that as the result of the prohibition against the export of gold in almost all countries the amount of gold in the possession of the Bank of Japan is decreasing by about 13 million yen yearly.
